

VINDICATE COXEY BY A NEW LAW.

THIS DEMAND MADE ON THE SENATE TODAY.

Senator Peffer and Allen Both Introduced Bills This Morning Repealing the "Keep off the Grass" Statute Under Which Coxey and Browne Were Put in Jail.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A bill to repeal the law under which Coxey was arrested was introduced by Senator Allen, of Nebraska, this morning. Peffer introduced a similar bill later, but both went over until tomorrow. The Coxey resolution was taken up, Gordon, of Georgia, speaking yesterday after other business. Senator Allen called up his resolution for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the police interference with the Coxey demonstration on the capitol steps May 1. He said he had waited a week after the outrage before introducing his resolution, expecting that one of the senators from Ohio, the state from which Coxey came, would take some steps toward its investigation. Mr. Coxey came from the congressional district formerly represented by Gov. McKinley. In his opinion such scenes as took place in the presence of 10,000 people on May 1, in the plaza in front of the capitol, should be investigated without delay.

MASSING DEPUTIES AT SALMA.

Preparations Made to Meet Saunders' Men—Industrialists Build Trucks.

SALINA, Kan., May 10.—Orders were received here last night by the employees of the Missouri Pacific from the officials at Atchison to prepare 500 warrants, and saying that a posse of 500 deputies from Leavenworth was en route to this city to place the Saunders commonwealth army under arrest. Information came that the army had reached Covington, near the western state line. Their coal and water supply was exhausted and they had gone into camp. The local authorities say they will not interfere with the train, but will permit it to proceed east.

PUEBLO, Colo., May 10.—Saunders' Cripple Creek industrialists, who seized a train here Tuesday and started east on the Missouri Pacific railroad, succeeded in getting around the obstruction near Olney caused by ditching an engine and box car in a cut and resumed their journey eastward about 3:30 o'clock a. m. Their engine is now out of water and practically useless. It is reported the men are preparing to walk thirty-six miles across country to the Rock Island. The road sent out men to repair the tracks immediately after the passage of the army.

RANDALL RELEASED.

Will Now Bring Suit Against Authorities for Malicious Prosecution.

LA PORTE, Ind., May 10.—Randall is again a free man, the cases against him and his followers being dismissed yesterday. The released men say they will begin a damage suit against Mayor Scott individually for malicious prosecution. Randall's claim will be placed at $50,000 and a vigorous prosecution will be made. The damages for the six other prisoners will be for smaller amounts. Members of the Chicago bar are to be engaged to aid them.

When Gen. Randall arrived in the camp he was received with cheers. The men are practically starving. The citizens here have done nothing for them and the provisions have run out. Randall denounces the local authorities. The army will march in the morning, but Randall has not decided on its route. At a meeting in the evening Randall made an appeal for his starving men.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 10.—The Sullivan branch of the Randall commonwealth army, consisting of sixty-five men, arrived here at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. They came from New Carlisle, sixteen miles west. The New Carlisle people treated them well. Sullivan says they will move to Elkhart, fifteen miles east, passing through Mishawaka. Randall will proceed to this city this afternoon. He will be hurried through the city, fed, camped, and passed on to the next point. No public speaking will be permitted.

Fry Kept Out of Shelbyville.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., May 10.—Fry's army arrived here at noon yesterday and after being notified by the officers that the men could not enter the city pitched their tents on the banks of Blue river, north of town. Fry said he would go to Lawrenceburg, Ind., and charter a boat for Pittsburgh, and then go afoot to Washington. The army leaves for Greensburg in the morning.

Sentenced for Train Stealing.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 10.—The twenty-three members of Company B of Galvin's army, who were arrested for attempting to capture a Baltimore and Ohio freight train, were sentenced to twenty days in jail each on a charge of trespass. The remainder of the army left McKeesport on foot and marched to Elizabeth. Galvin has decided to march his men over the National pike.

Morrison's Army Splits.

VANDALIA, Ill., May 10.—Half of Morrison's army has deserted him and decided to follow Schwartz, and to separate from the rest. A subscription of $25 was raised. The German Coxey's Camp a Nuisance.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The district health officers have decided the Coxey camp to be a nuisance and have given Coxey and his followers forty-eight hours "to abate the nuisance."

MINERS HEAD OFF A FIGHT.

STANTON, Ill., May 10.—Strikers Agree on a Settlement—Troops Ready to Move.

STANTON, Ill., May 10.—After a day that opened with a call on the governor for troops to prevent bloodshed a conference was held last evening between the officials of the Consolidated company, Messrs. Ridgley, Simpson, Hebenstreit, and Stocket, and Messrs. McBride and Crawford for the miners and an agreement was reached. The visiting miners who have been encamped here for two or three days are to be sent home. After their departure a secret ballot among Stanton miners is to be taken entirely free from interference on either side. If they vote to work they are to be allowed to do so without interference; if they vote to suspend they are to be free to do so at 3:40 to-night.

When time to go to work arrived yesterday morning there were 1,500 strikers on hand and the deputies and officials of the coal company thought it would be foolish to attempt to go to work in the face of such odds, as bloodshed would have surely resulted. The miners here are ready to work when they can do so with any degree of safety. McBride, general secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers' association was met by 500 strikers under the leadership of President Crawford of the Mine Workers' association. He urged the strikers to use no violence and said that if the men at Mines Nos. 6 and 7 desire to work, not to stand in their way. He censured the miners here for not going out when commanded to do so and said they would win the strike without them.

TROOPS HELD IN READINESS.

Gov. Altgeld Has Five Companies Prepared for Action.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 10.—Although Gov. Altgeld declined to send the militia to Stanton as requested, he prepared for an emergency by ordering seven companies of the Fifth regiment to hold themselves in readiness to go to Stanton at a moment's notice. The companies so ordered were those at Springfield, Decatur, Lincoln, Jacksonville, Taylorville, Petersburg and Champaign, but the order to the Champaign company was subsequently revoked.

DECATUR, Ill., May 10.—Lieut.-Col. Frank Wells of the Fifth regiment was notified yesterday that ten companies of the regiment had been wired to hold themselves for immediate duty, and that the Decatur guards were included in the order. They are ready to go. It is a duty not relished, but every man will obey orders, as they did at East St. Louis 1887.

FAIRBURY, Ill., May 10.—A committee of four miners from Streator consulted with the miners of the two shafts here yesterday, and the latter decided on quitting work.

PANA, Ill., May 10.—Over 300 men were at work yesterday in the different mines and more go down this morning. The strike seems to be broken here.

MINERS LEAVE THE SHAFTS.

McBride Receives Reports Announcing Additions to the Strikers.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 10.—Rich Hill, the key to the mining situation in Lexington, Mo., has suspended work. T. W. Davis wires from West Virginia that 500 miners have suspended work and have joined the union. Of the 3,000 miners in West Virginia 6,000 are out. There are about 35,000 miners in the eastern field, of which 25,000 are in eastern and central Pennsylvania, 3,000 in Maryland, 3,000 in Virginia, and 3,000 in West Virginia. President McBride said that of this number all would be out excepting, probably, the 3,000 at Pocahontas, Va. Coal dealers in this city are getting short in coal supply.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, May 10.—Difficulties here have been adjusted and the men will resume work at an advance of 10 cents per ton. The mines employ fifty men.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 10.—The 200 negro miners at Milldale, Tuscaloosa county, found threatening letters posted about the mines ordering them to quit work at once or stand dire consequences. The negroes walked out in fear of their lives. This puts Tuscaloosa county in the strikers' column.

CHICAGO, May 10.—A committee from the striking coal miners was in Chicago yesterday to call on the chief officers of the Switchmen's union and the American Railway Union to form a combination with them to hurry along the coal famine by the railroad men refusing to handle coal cars. Other committees visited, on the same mission, the grand officers in other cities of all the great railway brotherhoods. Such a movement, if successful, miners claim would in a few days produce a coal famine such as would cause public opinion to compel coal operators to settle the differences with them.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 10.—The biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers opened yesterday with 600 delegates present. Grand Chief Arthur presided. The day was given up to routine preliminaries. While the term of Grand Chief Arthur does not expire until 1896 it is gravely stated that there is more than a likelihood of his resigning before the close of the present gathering.

Affects All Pennsylvania Railroad Men.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 10.—An Appellate court decision here affirms the lower court in a case which concerns all the employees of the Pennsylvania system. NO NOMINATION YET.

Sixteenth District Democrats Still in a Deadlock.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., May 10.—The 100th ballot in the democratic congressional convention of the Sixteenth district gave Selby 3, Downing 8, Lakin 11, Page 7, Bell 17, Callon 14, Williams 12, Allen 4. The first ballot had been reproduced and no nomination in sight. Greene, Macoupin and Pike counties were negotiating for a combination. Their strength gave a total of forty votes, or a majority of the convention. Two hundred and thirty-three ballots were had without change and a half hour recess was ordered. Half a dozen or more ballots were had after the intermission and before the noon adjournment. They gave no indication of any prospects. The 400th ballot was had late in the afternoon and its result brought no comfort to any one of the candidates. The 405th ballot gave the same result as the first and an adjournment until 8 o'clock at night was had. At 9 o'clock, after 473 ballots, which were unavailing as to a nomination, the convention adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock. No prospect of conclusion could be seen.

FLOODS AT STILLWATER.

One Man Carried Away in a House and Fatally Hurt.

STILLWATER, Minn., May 10.—At 5:15 yesterday afternoon the heaviest storm of rain and hail set in that was ever known in this vicinity, continuing for nearly an hour. A building on Third street, next the gas-works, used as a notion store, was undermined and went toppling down the hill-side a distance of fifty feet. The building was smashed and the goods were buried in the sand. The total damage done in the city is not less than $20,000. A small shoe-shop on Myrtle street was undermined, fell into the street and floated down in the current. A man named Lillgren, who happened to be in the building, was carried down the street. After going two blocks the structure went to pieces, releasing the man, who was finally rescued after he was fatally hurt.

ANIMATED TARIFF DEBATE.

Aldrich's Review of the Wilson Bill Was a Sweeping One.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Mr. Aldrich took up the second amendment in the tariff bill yesterday, which is the words "or withdrawn for consumption," the purpose being to include goods so withdrawn from bonded warehouses in the provisions applying in the bill to goods imported. This precipitated a running discussion, in which Messrs. Jones of Arkansas, Chandler of New Hampshire, Vest of Missouri, Hale of Maine, Harris of Tennessee and Mills of Texas took part.

After some further running debate Mr. Aldrich got the floor. Talking of the caucus amendments to the bill he said they deliberately abandoned every principle ever advocated by a tariff reformer. They made increases from 10 to 300 per cent, and with a grand sweep changed the duties from ad valorem to specific. To swallow that bill as now modified would mean a surrender of the principles of a life time.

Mr. Mills of Texas declared the bill before the senate, as modified by the amendments introduced, had no resemblance to the Wilson bill. He said that he did not intend to vote for a single one of the amendments carrying a change to specific duties. The first amendment made the surrender. It was continued throughout the bill, until it was now a question between the McKinley bill and a democratic system of protection, with very little margin in favor of the democratic measure. "But I'll vote for it," said he, emphatically. "I'll vote for it if it contains only a 5-cent reduction of taxation."

After Mr. Mills' speech the pending amendment was agreed to, and Mr. Lodge offered his amendment to impose double duties against Great Britain until that country should agree to an international ratio for the coinage of silver.

Senator Stewart followed with a long free silver speech. Senator Peffer followed him.

Senator McPherson held that the provision of the amendment would be in contravention of international courtesy and was a system of coercion. England, he said, had no use for silver coinage.

Mr. Teller did not believe that this was the way to deal with the silver question. If he had the power he would absolutely inhibit the importation of English goods until that country should submit to an international agreement. Mr. Platt supported the amendment. Mr. Vest (dem., Mo.) opposed the amendment. Mr. Lodge concluded the debate.

Mr. Harris insisted upon his motion to lay the amendment on the table at the conclusion of Mr. Lodge's remarks, cutting off Mr. Dubois, who desired to speak.

The amendment was laid on the table—31 to 20.

Mr. Teller offered a substitute for Mr. Allen's resolution for an investigation of the arrest of the commonwealth leaders, and then, at 5:30 o'clock, the senate went into executive session. The doors were reopened at 6 o'clock, and on motion of Mr. Washburn, a bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river at Red Wing, Minn., was passed. Then, at 6:03 o'clock, the senate adjourned.

An accompanying report says that Great Britain for a number of years has maintained an absolute prohibition against the introduction of American cattle and permits their reception only at the foreign animal wharves, where they are to be slaughtered within ten days after their arrival.

House Considers Naval Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—At 1:05 p. m. yesterday Mr. Cummings, in charge of the naval appropriation bill, moved that the house go into committee of the whole to consider the bill, and, pending that, moved to limit general debate to four hours, and on this demanded the previous question. The republicans began to filibuster.

Before the filibuster had proceeded far Mr. Cummings had a consultation with the republican leaders, the result of which was that he agreed to extend the time of general debate to seven hours, three and a half hours on each side. The house then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Richardson of Tennessee in the chair. At 4:30 the committee rose and the house adjourned.

C. & N. W. WRECK KILLED TWO.

6:25 Train From St. Paul in a
Smash-Up.

ENGINEER AND EXPRESS MESSENGER DEAD.

Failing to Wait at Menominee Junction As Ordered the Express Dashed Into a Freight, a Curve Preventing Either Engineer From Seeing Their Peril—Twelve Passengers Badly Hurt and the Cars Made Into Kindling Wood—Fireman Cannot Live.

EAU CLAIRE, May 10.—The C. & N. W. day express from St. Paul to Chicago is a wreck a few miles north of here. Two men are dead and twelve badly hurt.

The dead are as follows:
JAMES JEFFERY, engineer of passenger; home Altoona, Wis.
— BURKE, express messenger on passenger.

The fireman had both legs cut off and cannot live.

The train, which is the one due in Janesville at 6:30 p. m. was near Menominee Junction just north of here when it collided with a freight.

The two trains came together head on and a frightful wreck resulted. The express suffered most. Its engine was demolished and the mail and express cars were shivered to splinters. The force of the shock telescoped the cars immediately behind and passengers were half the length of a car over seats and guard rails. Many were badly hurt, the list of those severely injured including an even dozen.

It was in the wreck of the engine and the first car, however that the dead were found by rescuers, who soon swarmed about the debris. Pinned down by the demolished cab the body of the fireman was found, smothered and disfigured. The bodies of the engineer and the express messenger were found twenty feet further back. Both these men had been killed instantly.

That two deaths were all which resulted from the accident is due to the fact that the express had just slowed down for the bridge. Ordinarily it runs forty miles an hour and had it struck the freight while running at that speed the loss of life would have been frightful.

The wreck occurred on a curve where neither engineer could see the other until the trains were close together. The responsibility for the wreck is said to rest with the passenger crew which was ordered to wait in Menominee until the freight took the siding.

MANY SYNODS RULE LUTHERAN PASTORS

LOCAL CONGREGATIONS ANXIOUS FOR FEDERATION.

At Present the Missouri Synod Controls Part of the Wisconsin Churches, the Wisconsin Synod has Charge of Others and the Buffalo Synod Also Steps in.

Local Lutherans are deeply interested in a federation of synods. Wisconsin Lutheran churches are now divided between three synods, the Wisconsin, the Missouri and the Buffalo. Said a prominent member of the church:

"A union of all the Lutherans in the state in one general synod would be very desirable, but it will be very difficult to effect in my opinion. Sacrifices and concessions will have to be made on both sides and therein will lie the rub. The Missouri synod is very strong, and it may not consent to abandon its interests in the state, although it might be of positive benefit to the laymen.

"A year ago a great deal was accomplished when the synods of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota joined their forces in one body, called the general synod of Wisconsin, Michigan and other states. This combination has strengthened the Lutheran church wonderfully. The Buffalo synod cuts no figure; it has only eighteen churches in the country, if I am not mistaken. Before they can come in they will have to change their creed and system of church government. But between the other synods there is no difference."

How did these various synods come into existence and flourish in the same state?

"They have started at a certain point and have gradually spread in all directions. The Missouri started in St. Louis, and it has gradually spread all over the United States. The Wisconsin synod has absorbed the bodies of Michigan and Minnesota, and has extended into Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska.

"As it is now, the synods frequently come in conflict in the state. Both will seek to start a new congregation in a new locality, and although one generally withdraws in a christian spirit, a feeling of bitterness and jealousy results. This would be avoided, if consolidation could be effected. I certainly hope, and with me every Lutheran pastor in the city, that the two synods will decide favorably on the plan, which has the unanimous support of the Milwaukee pastors.

"The main difficulty would be in transferring the institutions such as Concordia college in Milwaukee from the Missouri synod to the new state body. But a way could be found out of the difficulty no doubt."

The general Wisconsin synod will meet at Manitowoc this summer and the Wisconsin district of the Missouri synod will come together in Milwaukee. The latter cannot finally decide in the matter, but must lay it before the synod of delegates representing all the districts.

PERCY MERRILL VERY SICK

Struck in the Abdomen by a Piece of Pasteboard and Badly Hurt

Percy, the eldest son of Mrs. Harry Merrill, is dangerously ill. Last Saturday Percy was at play with a squad of companions. They were drilling as boys soldiers, the captain complaining that if the boys did not obey and get into line some of them would be hurt. He threw a piece of pasteboard, which struck Percy in the abdomen. Percy bent forward in pain, went home vomiting and continued in great pain, being unable to take nourishment of any kind. Last night he appeared much better, but his pains returned during the night, and today his condition is very critical. Inflammation of the bowels is believed to have resulted from the blow.

FLOODED THE HOUSE WITH WATER.

Two Inches Deep the Tide Stood in a West Side Home.

A west side family will buy new carpet for the dining room this spring because of the water company's liberality. The lady of the house went into the kitchen and set the hydrant running to flood the sink, and while waiting for the sink to fill she stepped into the front room for an instant; forgot all about the water she had left running, and it was fully half an hour before she incidentally returned to the kitchen, where she was horrified to find the sink running over and brooks of water meandering in every direction over the floor almost big enough to fish in.

What could be the matter? Had a pipe burst? No. The water was coming fair and square from the nozzle all right. What was to be done?

With upheld skirts she gingerly tiptoed across the rivulets till she reached the sink; there she tried to stay the rushing water, first by putting a cork into the nozzle, then by holding the palm of her hand against it. Neither plan was a success.

Seeing a neighbor passing, she ran out and hailed him, asking him to go to the shop and tell her husband to hurry home for the water was running and she could not stop it.

As ill luck would have it, the husband had gone down town when the neighbor got to the shop, and it was quite awhile before one of his men came to the conclusion he'd better go over and see if he couldn't help matters.

Arrived at the house he found the floor two inches deep with water, which was just beginning to pour out over the door sill; the family sat with a tail as big as a stove pipe sat upon the table surveying the rising tide and swearing wrathfully; the lady of the house had retreated in tears to the front room, and two neighboring boys were in the back yard planning a raft ride if the water kept on getting higher.

The man gave one look around then went to the sink, turned the handle of the faucet (a little formality that had been entirely overlooked) and, of course, stopped the water at once.

Excellent Program to Be Presented at the Congregational Church Tomorrow Night.

A concert by the Cheney Male Quartette will be given at the Congregational church tomorrow evening. Mrs. I. O. Buswell will assist by giving recitations. The quartette has made for itself a wide reputation in connection with the evangelistic work of Rev. J. I. Buswell. The Dunn County News says: "The singing of the quartette has never been equaled in Menomonee for sweetness, harmony and social stirring power." Mr. Potter will whistle several selections. Of his whistling it has been said that "it is music pure and simple, and withal of a spirit and quality like the fine ethereal breathing of an Aeolian harp." No admission will be charged but an offering will be received for the support of the work.

NOTES ON STATE POLITICS.

Koch is favored in Manitowoc county.

Nothing but Cooper is heard in this district.

BARWIG can't be renominated without a fight.

BRICKNER will not be renominated for congress.

HOD TAYLOR may come out as an "anti monopoly" candidate.

MAJOR W. H. UPHAM has withdrawn from the gubernatorial race.

UPHAM's withdrawal is expected to make Major Schofield, of Oconto, a more active candidate.

FRANK DOUGHERTY, the Eau Claire newspaper man, is making a hard pull for secretary of state.

COL. JOHN HICKS and Judge Emil Baench want the republican nominations in the Sixth congressional district.

L. B. CASWELL is getting considerable quiet booming for governor. The Beloit Free Press re-publishes the Sentinel letter and says: "While all the candidates for nomination who have been before the people for some time are undoubtedly good and honest men, yet it does seem as if the selection of such a man as Mr. Caswell is pre-eminently the thing for the state convention to do."

POLICE ORDERED TO ENFORCE THE LAW.

More Strict Compliance With the City Statute is Demanded—Ministers Call at the Mayor's Office in a Body and Urge That a Thorough Investigation Be Made.

Janesville ministers called upon Mayor Thoroughgood in a body a few days ago to protest against Sunday liquor selling. Partly in consequence of their action and partly as a result of personal investigation this proclamation was issued today:

JANESVILLE, May 10.—The mayor is very reliably informed that very many of the saloon keepers of this city are violating Section 7 of the city charter, by the sale, on their premises, of intoxicating liquors on Sunday. This violation of the license law has become common, and strenuous efforts must and will be made to suppress it. I hereby give notice that the police force of this city has been instructed to prosecute any saloon keeper violating the license law. Complaints have come to me so strongly and so frequently and from so many of our citizens (many of them having in their families young men who frequent these places) and I look to the police to use every effort possible to suppress this evil. The mayor will say most earnestly that the payment of a fine will not end the matter for those who violate the law. In addition to a fine efforts will be made without fear or favor to revoke the license of any who may be found guilty. This power is vested in the common council and I am assured the common council will not hesitate to act when called upon.

JOHN THOROUGHGOOD, Mayor.

Saved Time.

When the late Lord Falmouth was in the middle of his victorious racing career, so that he seemed to have a lease of all the great races, Lord Rosebery excited a good deal of amusement among their friends by getting 100 letters of congratulation lithographed in the following words: "My Dear Falmouth—Allow me once again to congratulate you on the success of your horse—in another classic race, the— Believe me, etc., ROSEBERY."

The blanks for the name of the horse and the race were duly filled in, and one of the forms was sent to Lord Falmouth at each fresh success.

Murphy's in the Majority.

A special parliamentary report on "Surnames in Ireland" has been issued, with notes as to numerical strength, derivation, ethnology and distribution. The volume is full of curious information, gathered together evidently at very considerable pains. It shows, among other things, that "Murphy" is the commonest surname in Ireland, there being no fewer than 62,600 persons (or 13.3 per 1,000 of the population) so called, and the next in order of numerical strength are "Kelly" 55,900; "Sullivan," 43,600; "Walsh," 41,700; "Smith," 33,700; "O'Brien," 33,400, and "Byrne," 33,300.

MATCH IN THE OIL FIRED HER FLAT.

MRS. HERMAN STIMM BADLY BURNED.

While Filling a Gasoline Stove There Was an Explosion and the Room Was in Flames Almost Instantly—Firemen Save E. J. Kent & Co's. Stock.

A match dropped on a gasoline can, fired the second story of 122 West Milwaukee street. Mrs. Herman Stimm had hands and face badly burned and nothing, but the quickest kind of work kept the fire from spreading to E. J. Kent's stock of paints and oils down stairs. Mrs. Stimm had been filling an oil stove, and the stove exploded. In a moment the little room in the rear of the flat was all in flames.

The doors, casings, and in fact all the wood work was burned so that it will have to be replaced. Three charges of chemicals were used to extinguish the fire, besides several pails of water. The loss will be something less than one hundred dollars.

E. J. Kent & Co's stock of wall paper, paints and artists' materials was quickly covered with tarpaulins, thus protecting the stock from damage.

Mrs. Stimm's face and hands were badly burned, and she was taken to McLean's drug store for treatment. She was too confused to tell much about how the fire started. In answer to the question, "How did it occur?" she replied:

"It just happened. I went to the window and cried fire, and told a man passing by to run to the alarm box and call the firemen. Instead of doing that he came up here."

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

A Corset . . .

adds more toward a good form and graceful shape than any other article of wearing apparel. Then don't buy poor style, bad-shaped affairs, that bulge out at the top wrinkle up at the bottom, break down in the middle and make your dress waists hang on the bias. A $3 corset will add more to a stylish make up than an $8 hat; a $6 pair of shoes or a $40 silk dress. Get the form right with a first-class corset and your dresses whether muslin or silk will fit you and look well.

These Are Facts, Ladies . . .

Your dress maker will tell you so, your good sense tells you so, and we who sell corsets every day know it to be a fact. Then educate yourself to this point. Don't buy poor shapless things that spoil your form. We have studied this matter and today can offer you some of the most scientifically made corsets to be had in this or any other country.

Her Majesty Corsets rank today the finest. They are sold by the best dry goods houses in all the big cities of this land. Janesville ladies can find them in our store.

The "P. D." is an imported French corset of high merit. We carry them in two styles, the long waist and the medium length.

Dr. Schilling's "Model Form" are correctly named. They are models for a perfect form.

Dr. Schilling's "American Lady" is today being sought for from Maine to California, and the factory which employs over 700 people cannot supply the demand for them.

The "G. D. Chicago Waist" is a most perfect soft corset.

The Ferris Good Sense Waist we carry in every style from the child's waist at 25c to the Ladies finest goods.

Dr. Warner's, Dr. Ball's, Thompson's "Glove Fitting," The Jackson Waist, the "Royal Worcester" can be found in our corset department.

We are making a strong effort to please you in Corsets and will guarantee satisfaction on every Corset we sell. See the splendid summer corset we are selling at 38c. See the great 50c corset that we are selling for 44c. We will sell you the correct styles. We will fit you perfectly. We will save you money. Try us on Corsets.

PRaise THE SHAW FOR MANY MERITS.

FAMOUS PIANISTS PRAISE THE GAZETTE PRIZE.

Everybody Who Has Examined the Instrument at S. C. Burnham & Co's Says the Things Said in Its Favor Were Justified—Conditions of the Contest.

What is thought of the Shaw piano by pianists, vocalists and teachers. This is not hard to find out.

When The Gazette chose an instrument it picked out the best to be had. The girl who wins this instrument may well rejoice. Here are a few statements published in St. Paul papers by those who have used the Shaw:

OSCAR L. LIENAU, tenor singer and teacher of the voice writes:

ST. PAUL, MINN., AUG. 2, 1892. GENTLEMEN: I am extremely pleased with the Shaw Piano, which I purchased of you. I have used it for some months and consider it a superior instrument. Its clear full tone and elastic touch is a delight not only to myself, but to my many friends, its sweet singing quality being especially noticeable, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to my pupils, etc., I am, yours respectfully, OSCAR L. LIENAU.

Frederick Leavitt, the expert piano tuner:

ST. PAUL, MINN., MAY 1, 1892. GENTLEMEN:—As compared with other first class instruments, the Shaw piano has the charming characteristics of each—all in one. Not a break in the scale. No rattling in the action. Never harsh nor metallic in tone. Stays in tune. Such is my admiration for the piano that I would not trade, "even up" for any upright made. My own Shaw has not required any attention during the past year and is in almost perfect tune now. Yours respectfully, FRED. LEAVITT.

Professor William Manner, organist at the Cathedral and leader of the German Mannerchor Singing society says:

ST. PAUL, MINN., MAY 6, 1892. I admire the Shaw Piano very much. Their construction is most excellent, the tone is round, rich and mellow, and altogether I consider them one of the very best pianos made today in this country. I can cheerfully recommend them. Respectfully yours, W. MANNER.

Those who wish to learn for themselves the quality of piano offered by the Gazette are urged to visit S. C. Burnham & Co's store. Several patterns of the Shaw are there shown. These instruments rank in the markets of the country just as Chickering's, Steinways and Knabes, the four occupying first place. Everybody who has seen the Gazette piano is enthusiastic in its praise. It has a pure ringing tone, and its action is very fine. These qualities are what would be expected of a Shaw piano and The Gazette made no mistake in choosing that instrument.

SPOTTED ALL OVER WITH LIVE SCHOOLS.

ROCK COUNTY FULL OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Reports Made Before the Association At the Presbyterian Church Showed a Very Flattering State of Affairs—Fully 3940 Children Are Now Enrolled—Last Meeting To-Night.

A big white square as full of black spots as if small boys had used it for a target stood against the pulpit of the Presbyterian church. The square was a map of Rock county and the spots were Sunday schools. After the devotional services led by Rev. J. D. Cole there was a report on the county work by J. H. Lease, county missionary.

Mr. Lease's report showed there were one hundred and seven or more Sunday schools in the county. Seventy eight outside of the cities of Janesville, Beloit, Clinton, Milton, Milton Junction, Edgerton and Evansville. Of these seventy eight, twenty nine have church organizations and forty nine have not. Thirty-nine of these schools have been organized within the past two years; twenty since May, 1893. There are now in attendance in the schools outside of Janesville and Beloit, 3,940 children, a gain of 993 the past year.

This afternoon there were talks on practical Sunday school work. Rev. W. F. Requa, Professor H. M. Whitney, Rev. H. Goodacre, Catherine A. Collins, J. H. Lease and Miss Ella Kimball took part. Tonight the convention will close. The evening programme will be:

Praise Service.....Prof. Sleeper.
Young People Working for Young People.....Rev. W. W. Sleeper.
The New West.....F. G. Ensign, Chicago.
Three Strong Addresses

Threeable addresses made up the programme for the convention's first evening session. Charles H. Bullock, Professor Edward Ely's assistant in the state university discussed "The Relation of the Church to the Social Problems of Today." Rev. A. J. Benjamin, state secretary of the Wisconsin association, talked of "Church and Sunday School; Their Relations to Each Other."

That children of the Sunday school do not attend the church he said, was an alarming fact. Some saddled the blame upon the Sunday school. He did not blame the teachers. The church itself was not entirely free from blame. It did not do its best to attract the members of the school. The sermons or prayers were too long, people of limited means were not able to rent seats for the whole family and the children were left at home; sometimes the pastor was cold or repellent. The speaker laid the principal blame to the fact that the parents do not insist on the children going. In the days of his youth the question was not asked "Do you feel like going to church today?" but it was "Children it is time to get ready for church" and nothing else was expected or thought of. It was a lack of parental authority that children do not go at the present time. There is just as much government as there used to be, only it has changed hands. The children rule now where the parents once ruled.

Rev. W. A. McKillop closed with a plea for "personal work."

Burt's Witnesses Paid By the State

On affidavit of Attorney Mahoney, who is defending Edwin Burt on charge of horse stealing, that the defendant was peculiarly unable to procure witnesses, the court issued an order that the county pay witness fees for the defense.

Doing as They Say.

Advertising always pays, when the goods advertised are on sale. No house in existence knows this to be true any more than Bort, Bailey & Co. When this house advertises an article at a certain price everyone in the city knows that it is there. That is the reason such confidence is placed in them. They never deceive, and when they tell you they will sell twenty-five cent French gingham at fourteen cents to-morrow, you know it is true.

CANVASS FOR Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Funds to be Sought by Representative Business Men This Month

The building of the Janesville Young Men's Christian association appeals to the citizens because of these facts: A large proportion of young men in the city are exposed to danger by being away from home influences evenings.

The privileges of the association and its attractions are so varied that it is able to adapt itself and be inviting to all classes of young men in the community. There are pitfalls, snares and evil entrapments presented in gilded form everywhere for the enslaving and downfall of young men for gain. The association is organized on a co-operative basis, and is a resort for young men open throughout the days and nights of the week also portions of Sunday where his improvement and manliness are in every way fostered and the holidays are made doubly attractive by inviting arrangements. It is the leisure time of young men that becomes the temptation door to waywardness and dishonor. The association realizing this prepares to occupy this time by different attractions which tend to give pleasure and profit. A broad and inviting educational work is offered giving skill in mechanics and competency in commerce. So that the wage earning ability of the young man is increased, and the performance of his duties made more satisfactory. The physical advantage that is offered is appreciated by thousands of young men giving health and endurance to the body, so that more and better work is done in less time than could be expected unless this training were given. Hundreds of young men, who for lack of home influences, natural inclination or moral safeguards, give way to their baser passions and desires, entailing not only the squandering of money but physical bankruptcy and broken hearts are saved by the association and lifted into a higher estate. Some interested business men are now in the field to make a thorough canvass for the completion of our new Y. M. C. A. building, and it is hoped that every person will decide what they will give and make it known. The board of directors have passed a resolution that when the building is entered it shall be free of debt. This will show the importance of prompt and liberal responses.

NO WONDER THEY WANT IT.

The Gazette Prize Piano Warmly Commended by Musicians.

It keeps S. C. Burnham and Fred Koebelin busy showing Shaw pianos to admiring Janesville people.

The Gazette offer has done more than merely to interest young ladies in a canvass for ballots. It has reminded many others that the Shaw piano cannot be surpassed by any up-right in the world. The opinion of musicians on The Gazette prize can be found on another page.

MAYOR MEANS TO CLOSE THEM.

Saloon Keepers Must Heed the Order Issued Today.

Saloon keepers will take interest in the notice of Mayor Thoroughgood's order published in another column. Many of them will save money by keeping their places of business closed on Sundays, back and side doors as well as the front entrances. The mayor means just what he says, and in case three policemen are not able to enforce the law he proposes to put on some "specials."

PAVERS DRIVEN UNDER COVER

Rain Will Delay the Completion of the Improvements.

Street Commissioner Hanthorn had his force at work a short time this morning removing the macadam from Milwaukee street to prepare the bed for the cedar blocks, but the dreeding rain soon compelled the laborers to stack their shovels and picks. The contractors intended to have the pavement completed this week, but the unfavorable weather will delay them several days.

TWO MEN KILLED IN A WRECK.

The 6:30 Train on the C. & N. W. Collides with a Freight North of Eau Claire.

The C. & N. W. day express from St. Paul to Chicago is a wreck a few miles north of Eau Claire. Two men are dead and twelve badly hurt.

The train, which is the one due in Janesville at 6:30 p. m., was near Menominee Junction when it collided with a freight. The two trains came together head on, and a frightful wreck resulted.

The Wilson Theatre Co.

Standing room only, was the greeting for all who came to the Farnham Street theatre after 7:45 last night to see the Wilson Theatre company present "The Inside Track," and the vast audience evidently appreciated the performance as the applause was frequent and boisterous, the entire company receiving a curtain call after the third act. The company is thoroughly capable and carrying as they do special scenery for each and every play they present makes it the strongest ever seen here at popular prices.

GERRYMANDERED SENATORIAL DISTRICT MAKES BOTHER.

Three Counties Chopped to Pieces to Make One Division With a Population of 57,804—Ole Gaarder, Ira Fisher and John Huntley the Rock County Committeemen.

T. C. Lund, of Stoughton, representing the Dane county republican county committee; John Bolander, of Monroe, chairman of the Green county republican committee, and W. T. Vankirk, of this city, chairman of the Rock county republican committee, are in consultation today, about appointing a republican senatorial committee for the Seventeenth senatorial district. This is one of the gerrymandered districts of the democratic legislature, and is composed of the county of Green, the towns of Union, Porter, Magnolia, Center, Spring Valley, Plymouth, Avon, Newark, Beloit, the Third and Fourth wards of the city of Beloit in the county of Rock; the towns of Cottage Grove, Deerfield, Pleasant Springs, Dunkirk, Dunn, Rutland, Christiansburg, Albion and the city of Stoughton in the county of Dane. The population of the district according to the census of 1890 is 57,804. The district is now represented by R. J. Burdage, of Beloit. It being a new district, the central committees of the counties select the senatorial committee, and the above gentlemen have been called together for this purpose. Mr. Burdage will not be a candidate for re-election, this year, it is said, and Green county is likely to claim the seat. H. C. Putnam of Brodhead, is already in the field and up to date has had everything his own way. Dane has no candidates to offer.

A district committee was appointed by the three chairmen with the following membership:

Green—J. B. Treat, Monroe; Burr Sprague, Brodhead; J. C. Ula, Ula; Richard Barlow, Monticello; T. C. Hefty, New Glarus.

Rock—Ole Gaarder, Spring Valley; John Huntley, Avon; Ira Fisher, Center.

Dane—A. F. Scheldrude, Stoughton; J. L. Severson, Christiansburg.

Brodhead was chosen as the place of the committee's first meeting and June 1 at 1 o'clock the time.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

No part of ones business requires more study than the advertising department. The main thing in this line is facts. This is very noticeable with the clothing house of T. J. Ziegler. Every article advertised by them can be found there. Tomorrow Ziegler starts a hat sale that will always remain the wonder of the town. Mr. Ziegler will present anyone with $50 who goes to his house and does not find every hat named on the eighth page of this issue.

NANS BICYCLE.

all Roxbury—should fall in love with and wish to marry a girl, a female. I should say, who rides a bicycle! In my time, no self-respecting young man would look at a brazen creature like that! Fred, you are my only son; don't bring my gray hairs in sorrow to the grave!"

Old Warren Dunbar paused to take breath. He was a handsome, distinguished looking old gentleman, and his son, handsome Fred Dunbar, was his counterpart, barring the difference between twenty-eight, and seventy-five. Fred stood gnawing his silky dark mustache uneasily, his thoughts running something like this: "How provoking! Nan would insist upon riding past the house last evening. I warned her, that should my father chance to see us, it would be all up between us! I know father's absurd prejudices, and once set in a certain groove, no power on earth can move him. But Nan, bless her dear heart! has just mastered the 'cycle, and her new one had just arrived, and she was wild for a spin out on the Fairmount road, so smooth and even. And then, of course, we had to meet the old gentleman, out for his constitutional, and the moment I looked at his face, I prepared for a storm! Well, I cannot help it! I love Nan Henford, and I am going to make her my wife!"

With which mental declaration of independence our hero turned to leave the veranda, where the conversation had taken place.

"Fred!" "Yes, sir!" Pausing to glance back. "Where are you going?" "Over to Mrs. Henford's." "Don't! See here, son! What I am saying is for your good! I am sure I am ready and willing—and your mother also—for you to bring home a wife to this big, lonesome house; but let her be a lady, Fred—a real, true, refined lady."

"Do you mean to insinuate that Nan Henford is not a lady?" "I always considered her so before this episode," responded the old gentleman, gravely, "though she was a little wild, and never conventional, and no son of mine shall wed a woman so brazen and bold as to parade upon a bicycle, up and down the public roads, even of a small town like Roxbury. So, that settles it!"

"Does it?" muttered Fred, unduly. "Well, we shall see!"

"I can never hope to change your opinion, father," he said, aloud; "but, really, I must reserve the right to select my own wife. And I have chosen Nan Henford! I shall marry her, or nobody!"

Mr. Dunbar looked aghast. He had long known that his son was a very determined young man, but this—this savored of anarchy. He started up with an angry expression, but Fred had disappeared. Down the long Schillinger walk he strode hatily, the gate-latch clicked behind him, he was gone.

"Right straight to Henford's!" groaned the father—his eyes following the tall, well-set figure of his son in gray summer-suit, and broad-brimmed straw hat, going down the long road in the direction of the handsome brown house where his divinity resided.

Fred's face had cleared a little by the time he had entered the rustic gate of the Henford's handsome grounds.

Just as he expected, there was Nan seated upon her bicycle, flying over the asphalt walk, like a winged Mercury, her pretty sailor hat only half shading the fair, sweet face, with its dimples and dancing blue eyes.

"Why, what's the matter?" was her characteristic greeting. "You look as forlorn as 'Ye Knight of Ye Doleful Countenance!' Tell me, Fred, what have I done now? Is it because I flirted a little, only a little, with Tom Allen last night? I'll never do it again—hand on my heart—so help me!"

"No!" laughed Fred, "not until the next time! But, Nan, I am in real trouble this morning. Come! put that thing away, and sit down in the summer house with me, while I tell you!"

Nan's eyes flashed. "That thing, indeed! Why, Fred Dunbar, that's my dear new bicycle, and I love it best of anything else in the world! Except—"

"Tom Allen, I suppose?" "You know better. Come," (dismounting and disposing of the wheel, as she spoke), "let us hear your tale of woe!" And when she had heard it, her eyes flashed, and she looked the personification of indignation.

"Your father's a—dear old man!" She had been about to say "a dunce," but discreetly changed her tactics—"to go on at that rate, as though we were in the seventeenth century. Why, Fred, suppose I went to him, head down, shy, you know, finger in my mouth, face all blushes—(you bad boy! could I achieve a blush?)—and lip off faintly a promise to him never—never—never—to ride a bicycle again. Well, what then? Why, directly there would be something else. He is a spoiled old boy, and needs taking down a peg. I do not know how it is to be done, but I feel it in my bones, as our cook says, that I am destined to do the deed! What do you say, Freddy?"

"I say you can do anything you attempt," he rapturously cried, holding the golden head close to his heart, to the certain destruction of the jaunty sailor hat. "But the question is—how, my gentle Nannie! How?"

"Wait! Time will tell the tale," she repeated, oracularly. "And now, Fred, come into the house! My prophetic soul warns me that it is perilously near lunch-time."

When Fred left Nan that day, they had not arrived at any idea of how the old gentleman was to be converted from the error of his ways. The two were just simply grieved and despondent as well as impatient.

That very evening Mr. Dunbar walked out at the sunset hour. He had long been accustomed to taking extended walks alone, and, as he was a man of wealth, had little to occupy his mind. He had gone farther than usual this evening, a lovely September evening, and when he glanced up and saw that the sun was quite out of sight, he uttered an exclamation of dismay:

"Dear me! I never dreamed it was so late!" he exclaimed, glancing at his watch, "and I expect Stanton and Harrington at seven, to consult about that piece of timber land. It will probably mean a loss of several thousands to me if I fail to see them to-night, for they are to leave Roxbury early in the morning. I will just take the railroad track. It will save me a full half mile, and then I may get home in time."

No sooner said than done. Striking the track, he was soon walking briskly, for his years, down the long line of trestle-work, homeward bound. Too briskly did he walk—for in his haste he grew careless—struck his foot against something, and down he went prone upon the track, one limb doubled under him. He strove to arise, but the sharp, sickening pain warned him he had broken or sprained his ankle. There was no help for it, only to lie down again. What should he do? It was fast growing twilight. Nobody at home would ever think of looking for him here on the railroad track. And, powers above! he recollected that the down train would soon pass in a few minutes it was due. The old man closed his eyes—

"Heaven help me!" he groaned, "I am lost!"

Just at that moment something soft and light was speeding down the track like lightning. He opened his eyes. At the same moment the roar of the approaching train filled the air, and around a curve in the track the down express came in full view.

Nan Henford, seated on her bicycle, caught a glimpse of that huddled heap upon the track, and with a cry of horror, she turned her wheel in its direction. She never dreamed that it was Fred Dunbar's father, but the impulse of humanity prompted her to go to the relief of whomever it might be; on came the train with thunderous tread. On flew the slender wheel from the opposite direction. It was a mad race between the two. Nan's blood was up. She set her white teeth firmly together, and whispered, gravely, "God help me and give me strength."

And so, she reached the inert mass lying right in the jaws of death. One spring and she had dismounted from her bicycle, dashed it aside, and, stooping over the old man, pulled him, with all the strength of her strong young arms, away from the approaching monster into the side switch near. The train thundered past.

"Good Heaven! it's Fred's father!" she exclaimed.

In a few trembling words the old man explained his presence in that undignified position. Nan listened with eyes full of sorrow.

"Oh! I am so sorry," she cried. "Now, since you're safe Mr. Dunbar, can you lie here just as you are, while I go and get Fred and the carriage? I will stop at Doctor Lee's, too, and send him to your house. It will not take any time at all on my bicycle."

It was all done. In an incredibly short time the old gentleman was safe at home, and Doctor Lee in attendance. The physician declared that, owing to the age of the sufferer, he could have done little for him, but for the promptness with which Nan had acted in getting Mr. Dunbar home, and summoning the physician.

"And for that you can thank the bicycle, and Miss Nan's proficiency as a rider!" he added.

"Come here, Nan!" cried Mr. Dunbar. The old man held out his hand, and Nan at once possessed herself of it.

"I've been a cross old curmudgeon," he went on. "Forgive me, dear, and—if you want Fred—well, of course, there's no more to be said. And you shall ride your bicycle as you please!"

"Which last was very well put in," commented Nan, naively. "Because you know I shall do it, anyway! And, really, I fancy I have proved to you, Mr. Dunbar, that the bicycle is good for something."

OUT OF THE ORDINARY.

Boston police discovered an illicit distillery in full blast in the heart of the city.

A movement has been started towards stocking Lucerne county, Pa., with pheasants of brilliant plumage. A plaintiff in a civil suit recently recovered a verdict for $4,000 for the loss of one finger in a railroad accident.

John Blake won $23.50 by guessing the exact weight of a big hog killed at Centerton, N. J. The animal weighed 759 pounds.

"Sherman's March to Richmond," in the London Spectator, is the last illustration of the British capacity for blundering on American history.

A few days ago Mr. Tome of Maryland left $6,000 on an express train running from Washington to Baltimore. The money has been returned to him.

One of the smallest offices in New York city is that occupied by an electrical contracting firm in the Havemeyer building. The office is but four feet wide and eight feet long.

England's penal colony in the Andaman islands contains 12,107 persons banished from British India. Of this number 8,015 were murderers, 44 poisoners, 1,841 robbers and 502 burglars.

Some idea of the misty climate of England may be grasped through the meteorological reports for the past twenty-nine years. They show that the most cloudless month in all that time yielded only 60 per cent of possible sunshine.

Professor Falb of Berlin prophesies a very probable collision between the earth and the comet of 1866 on November 12, 1899, when the comet will cut the point where the earth arrives every year at that time. But he does not think harm could come of such a collision.

The United States government is seeking by precept and example to induce towns with names ending in the forms of burgh, borough, boro and burg to adopt this last form. Burg is the usual pronunciation in the United States of the form burgh, and most Americans refuse to sound the final "h" even of Edinburgh.

HUMAN NATURE.

Sir Joshua Reynolds was often annoyed by being requested to paint the portraits of ugly women of quality. He said: "If I paint them as they are they will hate me; if I don't paint them as they are I shall hate myself."

A Catholic paper says that the archbishop of Cashel, examining a little boy on the catechism asked him: "What is matrimony?" The little fellow could not recall the words of the answer, but, determined not to be beaten, replied: "Two people getting married, your grace." "Could two little boys get married?" pursued the archbishop. "Yes, your grace." "How is that?" "To two little girls, your grace."

A pretty Southern colored girl in setting forth the virtues of her lover to a white friend in a Boston kitchen recently described his personal appearance thus: "He ain't a real black nigger (we allus calls each other niggers down South). He's what I call real nice looking! Well, he's 'bout th' color of a brown cookie. Not like the ones with molasses in 'em, but mo' like the ginger ones. 'Spec's like I'll marry him when I gets back."

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not badness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that it most cases can be cured, while others can't. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Did You Ever Meet a Truly Good Man?

No doubt you think you have, but we'll wager a dime you do not have the rheumatism. If he did, his sword occasionally, and no man can be truly good who swears occasionally. Health, peace, tranquility and morality are apt to go hand in hand. Painful spasmodic diseases like rheumatism and neuralgia ruin the temper, make one morose, peevish and rebellious. This is a sad fact, but it is none the less true. Drive away the pain, mollify the temper, restore tranquility of mind in cases of rheumatism and neuralgia with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an invigorating and tonic of comprehensive range and effect. It healthfully stimulates the kidneys, bladder, stomach, liver and bowels when inactive, and induces sleep and appetite. A very soothing effect, not an unnatural, stupefying one like that of an opiate, is produced by a wine-dress before retiring. It is incomparable in malarial disease.

Birney's Catarrh Powder

REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes:

Having been almost entirely deaf for a number of years and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 15 inches from my ear. I look upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve.

OUR NATIONAL CEMETERIES.

Fame's Eternal Camping Grounds, Where Sleep Our Soldier Dead.

Eighty-three national cemeteries, wherein 330,700 soldiers are sleeping their last long sleep, have been established within the boundaries of the United States. The laying out of these great gardens of graves and maintaining them in such a way as to deserve this latter appellation have cost the nation a sum of money large enough to disprove, at least in a measure, the old time saying that "republics are ungrateful." But the money that has been expended to properly mark and adorn the resting places of the brave men who died that the nation might live is not and has not been expended grudgingly. It has been paid out freely as the last and only possible tribute to the memory of men as brave as ever lived, and who fought for home and liberty. In thus commemorating the deeds of her common soldiers the United States is quite unrivaled by any other nation, ancient or modern.

This noble work could not have been accomplished but for wise and patriotic foresight exercised almost at the beginning of the war. In September, 1861, the secretary of war issued an order to the effect that accurate and permanent records be kept as to all deceased Union soldiers, and this order was at once followed by the issuing of blank forms through the quartermaster's department to hospital surgeons and all others who could use them. On the battlefields when the Federal troops were victorious great care was taken to bury the dead in such a way that each grave could be marked, and headboards provided by the general quartermaster were set up. Only on fields where the Confederates won were the dead buried without marking the graves. Soldiers who survived the southern prisons in many instances marked the graves of their comrades who died, and records were kept everywhere it was possible to do so, so that the mortuary records of the great civil contest exceed anything else of the same nature in the world.

It was in the second year of the war that congress authorized the president to purchase grounds and have them prepared for soldiers' cemeteries. The next year such graveyards were dedicated at Chattanooga, Stone River and Gettysburg. It was at the dedication of the last named of these three that President Lincoln delivered that address which, spoken modestly as it was, did not then attract the attention of its hearers as anything greatly out of the ordinary, but which, when it was telegraphed over the land and read in the newspapers, speedily took high rank among notable spoken passages and has since been accorded a place among classic orations. The national cemetery at Arlington was laid out in 1864, that at Antietam in 1865.

In pursuance of the general plan of 1865, 17 cemeteries were established in Virginia, 7 in Tennessee, 6 in Kentucky, 4 in North Carolina, 4 in Louisiana, 3 in Mississippi, 3 in Maryland, 2 in South Carolina, 2 in Georgia and 2 in the District of Columbia. In the north and west 4 were established in Illinois, 3 in Missouri, 2 in Indiana, 1 in Iowa, 2 in Pennsylvania, 2 in New York and 2 in New Jersey. In many places besides these the government has purchased small plots of ground where a few soldiers lie, and several cemeteries contain government plots wherein the bodies of Confederates who died in Federal prisons are buried. Less than one-fifth of the entire number whose graves are now marked and tenderly cared for lie where they were first interred.

Five of the national cemeteries contain the bodies of United States soldiers who fell in other wars than the struggle for the Union. One of the most notable is near the City of Mexico. Another is in Montana. In the latter lie the bodies of 918 regulars, including the 300 brave men who were massacred with Custer by the redskins.

It is a thing that every American may be proud of that all these cemeteries are kept in superb condition. The cemetery at Arlington heights, near Washington, is the most beautiful and contains the largest number of graves of identified dead. The total number of interments there is 16,535, of which but 4,349 are of unidentified soldiers. The first soldier buried there was a Confederate, on May 13, 1864.

The grave of Sheridan is a striking feature of the Arlington cemetery, where have also been gathered the bodies of most of those who fell at Bull Run, Chantilly and other battlefields in the vicinity. A massive monument of sarcophagus form, marking the bodies of 2,111 unknown soldiers, attracts much attention, as does also the Temple of Fame, a circular structure composed of eight columns surmounted by a dome. The columns are marked by the names of Washington, Lincoln, Grant, Farragut, Humphreys, Reynolds, Garfield, Thomas and Meade.

The cemetery at Gettysburg, with its numerous monuments and its 3,592 tablets; those at Shiloh, with 3,597; Vicksburg, with 16,633 (3,913 identified and 12,720 unidentified); Fredericksburg, with 15,274, of which 12,786 are unknown; Nashville, with 16,546; Salisbury, N. C., with 12,137, of which only 102 are known; Memphis, with 13,984; Andersonville, with 13,702, all identified but 923; Chattanooga, with 13,088—all the national cemeteries are, in fact, interesting, especially at this time, and all receive alike the attention of the government. The number of Confederate soldiers' graves so cared for is of course much smaller than the number of Union soldiers' graves, but they are as carefully tended and watched as the others.
